Preface

This volume contains the proceedings of ATC 2008, the 5th International Conference on Autonomic and Trusted Computing: Bringing Safe, Self-x and Organic Computing Systems into Reality. The conference was held in Oslo, Norway, during June 23–25, 2008.

ATC 2008 is a successor of the First IFIP Workshop on Trusted and Autonomic Ubiquitous and Embedded Systems (TAUES 2005, Japan), the International Workshop on Trusted and Autonomic Computing Systems (TACS 2006, Austria), the Third International Conference on Autonomic and Trusted Computing (ATC 2006, China), and the 4th International Conference on Autonomic and Trusted Computing (ATC 2007, Hong Kong).

Computing systems including hardware, software, communication and networks are growing dramatically in both scale and heterogeneity, becoming overly complex. Such complexity is getting even more critical with the ubiquitous permeation of embedded devices and other pervasive systems. To cope with the growing and ubiquitous complexity, Autonomic Computing (AC) focuses on self-manageable computing and communication systems that exhibit self-awareness, self-configuration, self-optimization, self-healing, self-protection and other self-x operations to the maximum extent possible without human intervention or guidance. Organic Computing (OC) additionally emphasizes natural-analogue concepts like self-organization and controlled emergence.

Any autonomic or organic system must be trustworthy to avoid the risk of losing control and to retain confidence that the system will not fail. Trust and/or distrust relationships in the Internet and in pervasive infrastructures are key factors in enabling dynamic interaction and cooperation of various users, systems and services. Trusted/Trustworthy Computing (TC) aims at making computing and communication systems as well as services available, predictable, traceable, controllable, assessable, sustainable, dependable, persistable, security/privacy protectable, etc.

A series of grand challenges remain before practical self-manageable autonomic systems with truly trustworthy services become a reality. ATC 2008 addressed the most innovative research and development in these challenging areas, and covered a multitude of technical aspects related to autonomic/organic computing (AC/OC) and trusted computing (TC).

The ATC 2008 conference provided a forum for engineers and scientists in academia, industry, and government to exchange ideas and experiences in developing AC/TC theory and models, architectures and systems, components and modules, communication and services, tools and interfaces, services and applications. There were 75 papers submitted, representing 22 countries and regions, from Asia, Europe, North America and the Pacific. All submissions were reviewed by at least three Technical Program Committee members or external reviewers.

In order to allocate as many papers as possible and keep the high quality of the conference, we finally decided to accept 25 regular papers for presentation, which reflected a 33% acceptance rate. In addition, there were 26 special session papers included in the proceedings. We believe that all of these papers and topics not only provided novel ideas, new results, work in progress and state-of-the-art techniques in this field, but also stimulated the future research activities in the area of autonomic and trusted computing.

Organization of conferences with a large number of submissions requires a lot of hard work and dedication from many people. We would like to take this opportunity to thank numerous people whose work made this conference possible and ensured its high quality. We wish to thank the authors of submitted papers, as they contributed to the conference technical program. We wish to express our deepest gratitude to the Program (Vice) Chairs for their hard work and commitment to quality when helping with paper selection. We would also like to thank all Program Committee members and external reviewers for their excellent job in the paper review process, the Steering Committee and Advisory Committee for their continuous advice, and Erik Hjelmås for organizing a panel on the important question: “Do we need a secure element in hardware?” A special thanks to Yo-Ping Huang and Tsun-Wei Chang for organizing a special session on “Sensor Networks, VoIP, and Watermarking.” We are also in debt to the Publicity Chairs for advertising the conference, to the Local Organizing Committee for managing registration and other conference organization-related tasks, and to Oslo University College for hosting the conference. We are also grateful to Son T. Nguyen for the hard work on managing the conference website and the conference management system.

Zhengxin Lu, Chen Huang, Furong Wang, and Chunming Rong

Autonomic Computing

Scheduling for Reliable Execution in Autonomic Systems	149
Terry Tidwell, Robert Glaubius, Christopher Gill, and William D. Smart
Measuring and Analyzing Emerging Properties for Autonomic Collaboration Service Adaptation	162
Christoph Dorn, Hong-Linh Truong, and Schahram Dustdar
Artificial Immune System Based Robot Anomaly Detection Engine for Fault Tolerant Robots	177
Bojan Jakimovski and Erik Maehle
Maximising Personal Utility Using Intelligent Strategy in Minority Game	191
Yingni She and Ho-fung Leung

Organic Computing

Simulation-Based Optimization Approach for Software Cost Model with Rejuvenation	206
Hiroyuki Eto, Tadashi Dohi, and Jianhua Ma
Organic Control of Traffic Lights	219
Holger Prothmann, Fabian Rochner, Sven Tomforde, Jürgen Branke, Christian Müller-Schloer, and Hartmut Schmeck
Concepts for Autonomous Control Flow Checking for Embedded CPUs	234
Daniel Ziener and Jürgen Teich

Knowledge and Patterns

Autonomous Querying for Knowledge Networks	249
Kieran Greer, Matthias Baumgarten, Chris Nugent, Maurice Mulvenna, and Kevin Curran
Discovery of Useful Patterns from Tree-Structured Documents with Label-Projected Database	264
Juryon Paik, Junghyun Nam, Hee Yong Youn, and Ung Mo Kim

Pervasive Systems

Using Multiple Detectors to Detect the Backoff Time of the Selfish Node in Wireless Mesh Network	279
Furong Wang, Yipeng Qu, Baoming Bai, Fan Zhang, and Chen Huang
Self-reconfiguration in Highly Available Pervasive Computing Systems ..	289
Hadi Hemmati and Rasool Jalili
Modeling Modern Social-Network-Based Epidemics: A Case Study of Rose	302
Sirui Yang, Hai Jin, Xiaofei Liao, and Sanmin Liu
An Evaluation Study of the Effectiveness of Modeling NASA Swarm-Based Exploration Missions with ASSL	316
Mike Hinchey and Emil Vassev

Special Session Papers

Organic Computing

Distributed Performance Control in Organic Embedded Systems	331
Steffen Stein and Rolf Ernst
An Operating System Architecture for Organic Computing in Embedded Real-Time Systems	343
Florian Kluge, Jörg Mische, Sascha Uhrig, and Theo Ungerer
Towards an Autonomic Peer-to-Peer Middleware for Wireless Sensor Networks	358
Reinhard Mörgenthaler, Markus Zeller, and Josef Jiru
Embedding Dynamic Behaviour into a Self-configuring Software System	373
Paul Ward, Mariusz Pelc, James Hawthorne, and Richard Anthony

Service Discovery of IP Cameras Using SIP and Zeroconf Protocols	388
Yi-Chih Tung, Chien-Min Ou, Wen-Jyi Hwang, and Wei-De Wu
Adaptability of the TRSIM Model to Some Changes in Agents Behaviour	403
Alberto Caballero, Juan A. Botia, and Antonio Gómez-Skarmeta
Trust
Trusting Groups in Coalition Formation Using Social Distance	418
Peter Shaw, Paul Sage, and Peter Milligan
Adjustable Trust Model for Access Control	429
