I hope all of our members are safe and well from the Coronavirus. I have not, personally, experienced a loss because of this virus. I hope you have had the same experience.

This pandemic situation has caused uncertainty in the holding of conferences for all IEEE entities. Some conferences have been postponed. In other cases, entities have determined to hold meetings virtually or the events will be held as a hybrid. The 2020 SSIT International Symposium on Technology and Society (ISTAS) will be a virtual conference. Stay tuned for details.

Date of current version: 18 June 2020

The inaugural issue of the IEEE Transactions on Technology and Society was issued in March of this year. It is an important and significant journal. I offer great thanks to Katina Michael for her leadership as the founding Editor-in-Chief of the Transactions. Also, a great big thank you to John Impagliazzo, SSIT Vice President of Publications, for his efforts in approving the SSIT Transactions. Bravo John!

There is still an opportunity to subscribe to this excellent new Transactions at very attractive rates. It is well worth the price.

Please stay well and be safe.
