

Message from the General Co-Chairs

IEEE ICPADS 2014

It is a great honor to extend our personal greeting to each and every one of you who are attending the 20th IEEE International Conference on Parallel and Distributed Systems (IEEE ICPADS 2014) in the wonderful city of Hsinchu. Since established in 1992, this is the fourth time we have this conference in Hsinchu, Taiwan. ICPADS has been a major international forum to bring together scientists, engineers, and users from all over the world to discuss and exchange the advancement in of parallel and distributed systems technology.

The Organizing Committee has worked diligently and prepared a rich four day program. We have excellent research papers in 24 technical sessions and six workshops. With more than 200 registered participants attend the conference, ICPADS 2014 will surely be a great success. We also encourage your participation in all social events to renew friendships and establish new academic connections, and to have opportunities to explore the cultural and historical richness of Hsinchu and other parts of Taiwan.

We also want to take this opportunity to express our great appreciation to organizing committee members: the Program Co-Chairs, Prof. Yeh-Ching Chung and Prof. Yanmin Zhu, and all the program vice-chairs and program committee members, for preparing the excellent and comprehensive programs, Prof. Chung-Ta King for local arrangement, Prof. Ching-Hsien Hsu for organizing workshop programs, Prof. Che-Rung Lee for taking care of financial matters, and all the organizing committee members who helps in organizing the conference. Finally, we will also express our sincere gratitude to Ministry of Science and Technology (Taiwan), Ministry of Education, Academia Sinica, National Center for High-Performance Computing, National Tsing Hua University, National Program for Intelligent Electronics, MediaTek, and Taiwan Association of Cloud Computing for their supports in organizing ICPADS 2014 Conference.

It is our great honor to have your attendance, wish you an enjoyable stay in Hsinchu, and hope you bring home the most beautiful memories.

Sincerely yours,
