Proceedings of ONLINE 72

ONLINE 72 has come and gone and better than a dozen (or two) papers were presented dealing with graphics. The proceedings of ONLINE 72 are now available for $78 from ONLINE 72, Brunell University, Uxbridge, Middlesex, England. Scanning over the table of contents I find, amongst others, the following titles which suggest graphics content. Hopefully reviews of them will be available shortly in Computing Reviews. In the interim, if you could, please send me your review of these and other articles. At $78 a copy, I can't quite afford my own personal desk copy.

Interactive Graphics in a Large Computing Center; J. M. Thompson, U. S. Air Force, USA. The Flag Plot Display System; A. R. Sorkowitz Naval Command Systems, U. S. A. Interactive Graphic Representation of Hemodynamic Phenomena; H. Greenfield, R. DeBrv University of Utah, USA. Interactive Programming of NC Machines with a Graphic Display; M. Baum Consultant, Holland. BRIGHTPAD: A Computer Based Drafting and NC System; M. A. Bayfield, D. F. Brooke, British Rail, UK.
