

COMPUTER-BASED COURSES
Panel Discussion

Chairperson: Alfred Bork, University of California, Irvine.

Panelists: Kenneth Bowles, University of California, San Diego
Patrick Suppes, Stanford University
Robert Noel, University of California, Santa Barbara

Session Abstract

This session will be concerned with undergraduate courses which employ the computer, in a substantial way, as a learning medium. The session participants will each describe one ongoing course which makes extensive use of the computer, showing the role played by the computer in the student learning system provided in the course.
